

The Herczeg Institute on Aging
מכון הרצג לחקר ההזדקנות והזיקנה

University of Southern Denmark

New Perspectives on Lifespan Inequality

Webinar and Open Discussion

Thursday, January 21st 2021

16:00–19:00 Israel Time | 15:00–18:00 CET | 9:00–12:00 EST

Opening statement

Dr. ISAAC SASSON, Prof. VIRGINIA ZARULLI & Dr. JOSÉ MANUEL ABURTO

Conceptualizing and measuring lifespan inequality

Keynote: Lifespan inequality is at best a weak signal of real inequality, and why that is so.

Prof. HAL CASWELL

Reflections on relative measures of inequality. Dr. ALYSON VAN RAALTE

On the measurement of healthy lifespan inequality. Dr. IÑAKI PERMANYER

New frontiers in research on lifespan inequality

The landscape of primate longevity. Prof. FERNANDO COLCHERO

Mortality inequalities and the impairment paradox in later life. Prof. MICHAL ENGELMAN

State-level trends in lifespan variability in the United States, 1960–2014. Prof. DUSTIN

BROWN & Prof. JOSEPH LARISCY

Open discussion and concluding remarks

The conference will be held via Zoom. Participation is free.

To register please visit <https://tinyurl.com/lifespan2021> or contact tomaival@tauex.tau.ac.il

Organized by the Herczeg Institute on Aging at Tel Aviv University in collaboration with the University of Southern Denmark and Oxford University